

Health Professionals Global Network
A new virtual network for health professionals

<http://www.hpgn.org>

The purpose of the Global Health Professions Network (GHPN) is to maximize the potential of all health professionals through a virtual network, foster interprofessional collaboration, and contribute to the global health agenda.

Through online discussions this virtual network will:

- Encourage interprofessional dialogue and collaboration
- Enable members of your constituency to join the discussion
- Support the exchange information about our organizations and areas of work
- Help work towards creating a framework of action and move forward practical recommendations

CONTINUE THE GLOBAL DIALOGUE!

REGISTER NOW at <http://www.hpgn.org>

The HPGN virtual network is supported by the Knowledge Gateway—an electronic platform that connects people working in the fields of health and development around the world through communities of practice and online discussions. This low-resolution technology was developed by the World Health Organization Department of Reproductive Health and Research (WHO/RHR) and a number of partners in 2004 and is now used by nearly 150,000 individuals in 193 countries.

Questions? Please contact Katie Richey at richeyc@who.int